EPOXY FLOORING SERVICES

Blendex by Milburn Flooring specializes in high performance coating systems. Epoxy flooring is one of the most durable flooring products with a long life span. Epoxy offers superior protection and excellent abrasion and chemical resistance. With a large color pallet, these floors allow for custom designs to be incorporated into the application providing a high end finish. To control dust in warehouses or storage facilities, the process of grind and seal can be employed.

Installation Services:

The single most important step to your project is proper surface preparation. Achieving a clean surface with the proper CSP (concrete surface profile) will allow proper absorption into the concrete as well as provide a mechanical anchor to the slab. Blendex by Milburn Flooring offers various types of surface prep equipment to achieve this.

Other key steps include concrete moisture evaluation and determining the correct resin system for the area to be coated. Different resins will perform better in different environments. Cure times will also play a role in deciding which is right for you.
